

Enterprise Institute has new office locations

The Enterprise Institute recently moved its operations to new locations in both Brookings and Sioux Falls. The moves bring the Enterprise Institute closer to start-up companies and other business resource providers that new business need.

The Brookings office is now located in the new Innovation Campus building. This beautiful building opened November 1, 2008. It is the first building of the SDSU Innovation Campus located near the I-29 and Highway 14 by-pass intersection, off of 22nd Avenue.

Teresa McKnight, the executive director of the SDSU Innovation Campus, says "The Innovation Campus is a very unique place – it's a place where business, industry, government and university work alongside each other, park in the same parking lots, have lunch together, share ideas and come up with the best thoughts about how we can create new technologies and ideas, new companies, and new high-tech jobs in South Dakota.

The Sioux Falls office is now located in the South Dakota Technology Business Center. The Enterprise Institute joins other service providers and several early-stage companies.

"We are very excited to have Enterprise Institute staff located at the South Dakota Technology Business Center in Sioux Falls," said Rich Naser, the SDTBC's executive director. "Our clients will benefit tremendously from having access to E.I.'s services for competitive market analyses, patent searches and accessing equity investment opportunities."
